NEW SITES FOR THE WORLD'S FAIR. CARLEM PLATS OR TRACTS OF LAND NEAR MOUNT

WASHINGTON PROPOSED. The Sub-Committee on Sites, appointed by the United States Board of Trade on the proposed World's Fair, held a meeting at the Astor House yesterday afternoon to consider some new pro posals which had been sent in, but no action was taken. One of the sites proposed was that portion of the city lying between Ninety-seventh and Onehundred-and-third-sts., and between Second and flats. The arguments advanced in favor of this site were that it is nearly level, that gas and water pipes are already laid through it, that it is easily accessible by railroads already in operation, and that the East River at that point is deep enough to float steamboats. Members of the committee said, however, that all the arguments in favor of the site would be answered by the one objection, that the low and marshy ground would be unhealthful. Another site proposed was regarded with favor by some members of the committee. It may be called the "Washington Heights site," and is composed of four tracts of ground north of Central Park. The first of these tracts begins at One-hundred-and-thirty-lifth-st, and runs north to One-hundred-and-forty-fifth-st, between St. Nicholas and Tenth-aves. It contains about fifty acres, is unbroken by roads or streets and has no buildings on it except a few cabins. The second tract has the same northern and southern boundaries as the first, and extends enstward as far as the Seventh-ave. It contains about eighty acres, and is intersected by the Eighth-ave. The third tract extends from One-hundred-and-forty-fifth-st, northward to the Harlem River, between Seventh and Ninth-aves, and contains about 200 acres. The fourth tract lies between Tenth-ave, and the Boulevard, north of One-hundred-and-forty-fifth-st, and contains about thirty acres. With the exception of the first named, these tracts are now partly occupied by permanent buildings, but it is claimed that over 300 acres of the exhibition. The main objection to the site is that it is composed of separate tracts divided from each other by wide streets and avenues.

The advantages of the site are enumerated as follows: Ample space for all the purposes of the fair; capability of landscape arrangement and adornment; accessibility and means of distributing great numbers of persons; healthfulness, comfort and economy. accessible by railroads already in operation, and

The total vote was 184,490, the largest vote ever polled at an election of the company. The Hart ticket was elected by about 25,000 majority, the successful candidates being Heary Hart, William Remsen, John Riley, H. P. Farrington, Holace Calpen, James O. Sheldon, Charles F. Livermore, Russell Sage and J. B. Houston. Russell Sage and J. B. Houston, the two new members of the Board, take the place of the retiring president, D. S. Baboock, and of George H. Potis. The new members are said to represent the interest of the Panama Railway Company. Mr. Houston was formerly vice-president of Pacific Mail, and in 1876 had the chief part in its management. The new directors will meet to-day to elect officers. It is said that Captain John Riley will be made president and J. B. Houston vice-president. The amended contract with the Panama Company, which was approved April 16 by the former Board, but which President Babcock has refused to sign, will be executed immediately by the new Board.

EXTRAORDINARY CALLS ON THE MAYOR.

Matthew J. O'Rourke, accompanied by Cornelius O'Reilly and a committee of the Taxpayers' Association, appeared before the Mayor yesterday, to prefer charges against Deputy Controller Richard A. Storrs. Mr. O'Rourke asked for permission to examine the books of Controller's office. The Mayor said he had no confidence in Mr. O'Rourke, and unless he would submit what evidence he claimed to have he must refuse permission. Mr. O'Rourke would not furnish any evidence but his word, and the Mayor deelmed to take that. Mr. O'Rourke then made an afficavit naming four warrants, two drawn in 1869 and two in 1870, on which, he claimed, Mr. Storrs fraudulently received $95,000. The Mayor did not seem to think such evidence satisfactory, but said he would consider the matter. The members of Mr. O'Rourke's committee said he had not sustained his charges as made to them, and therefore they would not be held responsible.

Soon after this committee had gone out another committee claiming to represent the workingmen of the city called on the Mayor. They denounced O'Rourke's committee as composed of "frauds," of so-called Greenbackers, who did not represent workingmen, and could not be relied on. The spokesman of the committee proceeded to say: "We are workingmen, We were russed in this city. We are out of work—can find nothing to do. We are entitled to a living, and we call on you as the he must refuse permission. Mr. O'Rourke would not

THE CASE OF MRS. SMITH AND BENNETT. Mrs. Jennie R. Smith and Covert D. Bennett continue to be greatly depressed. Bennett slept well Tuesday night. Mrs. Smith is suffering greatly and spends most of her time in bed. Yesterday, her sister, Mrs. George Watson, spent nearly two hours in her cell. James Flemming, one of the lawyers employed in the defence of Mrs. Smith and Bennett, stated last evening that the counsel had not yet met for formal consultation, but that they had decided to ask Judgo Knapp, who had presided at the recent trial, for a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted. The motion will probably be certified to the Supreme Court of New-Jersey for action, but will not be made until the two prisoners are sentenced. If the new trial is not granted, the case will be carried to the Court of Errors and Appeals, on exceptions to the charge.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A COLLEGE STUDENT. JOHN C. PUTNAM, OF STEVENS INSTITUTE, SUP-

POSED TO HAVE DROWNED HIMSELF. John C. Putnam, a student at the Stevens Institute of Technology of Hoboken, and boarding at No. 427 Garden-st. in that place, has been missing since Tuesday afternoon, and it is believed he has committed suicide. On Tuesday night Chief of Police Donovan, of Hoboken, was informed that a rowboat had been found tied to a shad stake nearly opposite the Elysian Fields. On one of the seats was found a wallet with some postage stamps in it, but no money. Near it was a piece of pasteboard, was found a wallet with some postage stamps in it, but no money. Near it was a piece of pasteboard, on which was written "Please return this boat to its owner." The writing was half in printed letters, and it had evidently been done by a person laboring under nervous excitement. A visiting card with Putnam's name on it was also found in the beat. The writing on the piece of pasteboard was identified yesterday as that of the missing student.

Putnam had attended the Institute for two years and was greatly liked by his fellow-students. Tuesday silternoon he hired the boat and said he would return in a short time. For some time he had acted in a very peculiar manner, and had charged the other students with talking about him. For several weeks he had avoided even speaking to them unless they addressed him first. He was twenty-one years of ago, and stood well in his classes. It is supposed that he was lusane. Putnam's parents were informed yesterday of the disappearance. Search for the body has been without success. At Putnam's boarding-house a postal card was found addressed to his mother, Mrs. E. C. Putnam, of Davenport, Iowa. It read as follows:

My DEAR MOTHER: I have been so very busy lately that I could not find time to write. Had my pieture taken Saturday and that took all my spare time. I am well, studying like a Turk; shall write to-morrow, I guess, and continue; received, Bennie's letter, also papers. Thanks, Your loving son, Hoboken, May 21, 1879.

Professor Henry Morton, the president of the Institute, was meable to account for the act of young Putnam.

HIGHER PRICES FOR COAL ADVANCE OF 25 CENTS PER TON FOR JUNE.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad yesterday sold at auction 190,000 tons of coal at a slight advance. The bidding lacked spirit. Prices on some sizes were several cents higher than at the April sale, but the average price was only one cent higher. Well-informed operators said that the persons interested in the movement for an advance. Following are the average prices compared with those of the April sale by the same company:

The Lehigh Valley, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and Delaware and Hudson Companies were not represented. At this meeting an advance of 25 cents in the price of coal for June was decided upon. Several of the companies issued yesterday circulars giving the advanced prices. The ndvance is 25 cents on all sizes except chost sut, on which it is only 15 cents. The Delaware and Hudson, and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western lave united in the increase. The Pennsylvania Coal Company will not issue its price-list until May 31. It has as yet made no change.

Mr. McNair has taken in the prosecution of volators of the Sanday law. Great indignation is expressed by respectable citizens of all classes, and the most rigid enforcement of the law against Sanday selling will be demanded.

George Vanderboof and Ira W. Cakley, who are reperiate policemen and agents of the Law and Order Association, on their return from the Court House one day hast week, where they had been as witnesses against saloon-keepers, were assaulted by Julius Kirchner, who shook his fist at them and called them vile names. They followed Kirchner into Otto Molter's saloon, in Market-st., and attempted to arrest him, but desisted when a lawyer who was present told them that they had no right to make the arrest without a warrant. They then went before Justice Dean, precured a warrant and arrested Kirchner. Alderman Gedicke, chairman of the Police Committee, who was in Molter's saloon at the time, made a complaint against the special officers, and yesterday they had no right to make the creek mass-meeting of the Law and Order Association. The accused men testified that Kirchner got on Molter's stoop, to which they had followed him, renewed his abuse and then ran into the saloon, when they, too, entered the saloon and attempted to arrest him. The collection has been on exhibition since December, as a part of the Feuardent collection of antiquities, coins and gems, at No. 30 Lafayetto-place, which Gaston Feuardent & Co. have for sale. Mr. Feuardent, who was for several years expert to the British Museum, learning that the Rov. C. W. King. of Trinity College, Cambridge, was willing to dispose of his collection of gems, regarded by Mr. Feuardent as the finest private collection in existence, persingled the owner to let him bring it to America. Mr. King, who is the anther of several books on antique gems, is regarded in Europe as the standard authority on this subject. His private collection was picked up almost piece by piece during the last forty years, with the main purpose of illustrating the development of the Glyatic art among the ancients. Being now about seventy years of age, and having his vision greatly impaired, Mr. King could no longer find the same delight in his delicate art treasures. DECORATION DAY SERVICES.

General Lloyd Aspinwall, treasurer of the Memo rial Committee, received the following subscriptions yesterday, in addition to $750 previously subscribed, toward defraying the expenses of the Decoration Day services to-morrow : Bates, Page & Coley, $50; New-York Equitable Insurance Company, $25; Scott Lord, $25; Sinclair Tousey, $25; Leopold Cahn & Co., $25; Judge Noah Davis, $10; other subscriptions about $15. General Aspinwall ther subscriptions about $15. General Aspinwan hopes to obtain at least $2,000 by subscriptions, which will be needed to defray the expenses of tomorrow's observances. The sale of scats for the evening ceremonies at the Academy of Music continues; and it is hoped to have a surplus of at least $1,500. All moneys received over and above the actual expenses for to-morrow's services will be set apart for the soldiers' and sailors' monument fund. General Aspinwall thinks that about $30,000 is needed for the monument, and that that sum could be raised in a very short time.

BIDDING MR. TALMAGE GOOD-BYE.

Among the passengers who sailed for Europe, yesterday, on the Gailia, was the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, who goes for a three months' visit to the principal places of interest in Great Britain and on principal places of interest in Great Britain and on the Continent. Mr. Talmage is accompanied by his wife and his eldest daughter, Jessie. Mr. Talmage's friends had chartered the Grand Republic for the purpose of escorting him to Sandy Hook. She left Jeweil's wharf soon after 9 a. m., bearing many of Mr. Talmage's friends, steamed to Pier No. 42 North River, where Mr. Talmage and his wife and Miss Jessie were landed to go on board the Gal-lia. At 10:45 the Gallia swung into the stream and headed for the Narrows. The Grand Republic kept near her all the way to Sandy Hook.

CONTRACTS FOR INDIAN SUPPLIES.

The awarding of contracts to furnish supplies for the Indian Department has been concluded. The total expenditures for the ensuing year will be nearly three million dollars. The contract for medi-cal supplies, amounting to $10,000, was awarded to McKesson & Robbins, of this city. THE SENATE PASSES THE BILL FOR THE REDEMP-TION OF EMALL SILVER-RHODE ISLAND AP-POINTMENTS-A DAY OF FILIBUSTERING IN THE HOUSE.

SENATE..... WASHINGTON, May 28, 1879. In the Senate to-day, Mr. KERNAN (Dem., N.Y.) presented a memorial of Wm. P. Clyde, and others, asking for an appropriation for the removal of the obstruction to navigation in the harbor of New-York known as the Sand Spit, accompanied by resolutions of the Board of Pilots of that harbor, declaring such removal necessary. when was acopted, and the control of the levators for public buildings in Chicago and elsewhere.

The PRESIDENT pro tem, laid before the Senate the resolution of red by Mr. McDONALD (Dem., Ind.) yesterday, referring to the committee on evil service and retrenchment, so much of the petition and memorial of exhalders and saliers of Rhode Island, presented by him, as relates to alleged violation of civil service reform in Rhode Island, and referring so much of them as relates to alleged Federal interference in elections, and deprivation of the right of citizens to vote, to the committee on alleged frauds in the late election.

Mr. ANTHONY (Rep., R. I.) thanked the Senate for not considering the resolutions in his absence. He said the petition was the outgrowth of personal spite against him because of a fancted slight contained in a newspaper with which he was connected, but for which he was not responsible, and because of the discharge from the Custom House at Providence of a brother of one of the petitioners. As Mr. Anthon was not instrumental in bringing to the attention of the appointing power the gentleman nominated for Collector at Providence, he did not think it necessary for him to oppose his confinionation merely because he was a relative of his, especially as he knew him to te a competent man. Mr. Authony added that he idd not interfere in the appointing he did not mink it necessary for him to oppose his confirmation merely because he was a relative of his, especially as he knew him to be a competent man. Mr. Authony mided that he did not laterfere in the appointments or removals of subordinate employes and was not responsible for any changes made by the Collector. He denied the truth of the charges of Federal interference in Rhode Island elections, and said that in regard to the restriction on suffrage in Rhode Island by the property qualification, it had been reported by a former Judiciary Committee of the Senate to be constitutional, and there did not seem to be any ground for inquiring into the subject new.

Mr. McDONALD (Dem., Ind.) said there had been so much said lately about the right of each State to interest itself in the proper representation of every other State that perhaps it was advisable to investigate the State where large numbers of persons were deprived of representation by property qualifications. He thought the subject a suitable one for the committee to inquire into. After considerable debate in winch the representation of Rhode Island in proportion to its population relatively to that of other States was discussed, the morning hour expired and the resolution went over.

The Senace proceeded to consider the bill making subsidiary silver coins exchangeable for lawful money and making such come a legal-tender in sums not exceeding $20, the pending question being on the committee amendment to substitute the words, "$10" for "$20." Mr. EDMUNDS (Rep., VL.) moved to amend the amendment mans, and the meandment was adopted—yeas, 31; naws, 21.

The Senate, at 4 p. m., on motion of Mr. BURNSIDE, went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. CONGER (Rep., Mich.) objected to the bill, but his objection coming too late, the bill was referred.

The House then, in the morning hour, resumed the consideration of the bill relative to the removal of cases from State to Federal Courts.

Mr. TOWNSHEND (Dean., Ill.) witndrew his demand for the previous question on the bill, and moved that the bill be referred to the Committee of the Whole, and on that motion he demanded the previous question.

The Republicans refusing to vote the House was left without a quorum.

A call of the House was ordered, and this with one or two roll calls on dilatory motions having consumed the morning hour, the bill went over without action.

The SPEAKER then recognized Mr. SPRINGER (Dem., Ill.), who desired to offer a resolution amending the rules of the House.

AVENGING THEIR OWN WRONGS. IWO WOMEN PUNISHED FOR THROWING VICTIOL.

Kate McDonald, housekeeper at the Astor Place Hotel, was placed at the bar of the Court of General Sessions yesterday for trial on an indictment charging her with assault with intent to kill, in having thrown vitriol in the face of Joseph W. Taylor, a brakeman on the New-York Elevated Railroad. The courtroom was crowded with spectators during the entire day, and much interest was manifested in the proceedings. The prisoner sat behind her counsel, ex-Judge Edward Mackinley, and was the picture of distress. She were no hat, and her hair, which is long and black, fell over her shoulders dishevelled. She was dressed in a brown dress, and there was no attempt at ornament beyond a heavy pair of gold ear-drops which she were. Her face bore traces of mental suffering, and her eyes, which have a slight east in them, were restless, seldom looking in one direction many moments. She took little note of the proceedings, and frequently rested her head on her hand, as if it was troubling her.

Assistant District-Attorney Bell in opening the case dwelt on the deadly nature of the assault. He said he understood that the defence was to be that the prisoner was insome. Of course, if that could be proved she

The first witness examined was Joseph Taylor, the injured man, who testified that he lived at the Astor injured man, who testified that he lived at the Astor Place Hotel when the prisoner went there as a chamber-maid. Subsequently she was appointed housekeeper. Taylor left the hotel on April 17, when he married and went to housekeeping. Between April 17 and May 10, when the vitriol was thrown, he had not seen the prisoner except from the cars of the elevated railroad, which passed the hotel. On the evening of May 10 he went to the hotel to see her in response to a letter. She reserved num in a reception-room off her bedroom and greeted him cordially. He teld her that he had visited her in reference to money he had borrowed of her; and when he said tout he would not be able to pay her that mouth, she replied that it was of no consequence. At that moment a washwoman entered the room and the prisoner asked to be excused. She returned to the room in a few minutes with two vessels in her hands. One was a bowl and the other a cup, but thinking that it was someting for her supper Taylor paid no attention to it. He was suting in a chair, and as the prisoner entered the washwoman got up to go. At that moment the housekeeper threw the contents of the bowl at him. When the liquid struck him he knew that it was vitriol, and he attempted to wipe it from his face with his arm. He at once ran to the washroom, was afterward taken He had been warned by Mr. Haskell, the proprietor of the notel, to keep away, as Miss McDonald intended mous crop of that fruit is still unchanged. In one or two localities in the mountainous section the straw-berries are slightly nipped, while currants, grapes and other fruits are uninjured. In the vicinity of Highland, "Natives" and "Antwerp" berries are all right. Straw-berries are reported touched by frost in wet ground in the above section. As a rule, however, the strawberry crop is not injured. About 350,000 peach trees have been planted this season at Mariborough, Unster County, and it is estimated that nearly 3,000,000 rees have been set out this Spring in the peach-growing districts of the Hudson valley. Extensive preparations are already here greated for gathering and sompting the same cross-examination, the witness admitted that for two years before he obtained employment on the elevated read he had been living by aid of his friends; that he was given his room at the hotel for the odd jobs he did about the place; that he was in the habit of calling the prisoner "Pet," and that, in fact, he called all the Frankini Smith, the physician who attended Taylor, described his ajuries. The left eye is not imjured, but he will probably lose the aget of the right. His face also badly scarred.

Ex-Judge Masskaley, in opening for the defence, intimated that as intended to show that the prisoner was timane when she committed the act; that her insanity was directly traccable to ner deserrion by Taylor, who under promise of marriage and betrayed her, deserted her and marriad another. Extra Haskell, proprietor of the Astor Place Hotel, testified that after April 17 the price have been received for investment funds.

The delegates from the Southern Baptist Convention were received and welcomed by the president. The following officers were chosen: President, the Key.

Dr. E. G. Robinson, of Khode Island; vice-president, the Key.

LL D., of Ohlo; recording secretary, the Rev. D. Lemnal Mos., of Indiana; James M. Hoyt.

S. Burrage of M.

Morton, a keeper in the Essex Market Prison, all testified to ber errade conduct.

Tay or was then recalled by the defence, and admitted criminal intimacy, but denied that it took place under promise of marriags. The counsel for the defence created a slight sensation in court at this point, by calling the prisoner; so witness is her own behalf. She spoke in a low and thoid voice. She restrict that on December 2 Taylor and she became cogaged. About March 124 he seduced her, and in April he told her he could not marry her because he was already a married man. She remembered nothing of what occurred after Taylor visited her on May 19. Henry Sheppard, one of the examiners is timely appointed by the Supreme Court, testified that on April 19 he found the prisoner suffering from hysterical epilepsy. The jury after an absence of about one hour returned a verdict of guitty of simple assatit.
